Big Registration, Good Weather Brings Some Vote Forecasts To Record 625,000

By The Associated Press

"Last Chance" oratory, most of it by radio or television, closed out the generally hard fought 1952 general election campaign for Nebraska candidates Monday night.

Most of the "top brass" was in Omaha, where major candidates have been concentrating for the past week. And in the state, as in the nation, most candidates were in the position of having said everything before, only to be saying it in new ways and in new places.

Radio and television schedules in Omaha showed almost a solid booking of political talks during the evening hours.

Hush Tuesday

All this will be hushed Tuesday when Nebraska voters—quietly but in possibly record numbers—part the curtains in voting booths throughout the state and make the decision which will determine the complexion of state and national government for the next two years or more.

Top Democratic and Republican party leaders weren't seeing eye-to-eye Monday on what the decision will be but were agreed that the turnout will be a jim-dandy—more than 600,000.

Secretary of State James Pittenger foresaw a record turnout of between 625,000 and 650,000. The old mark is 623,781, set in 1940.

Optimistic

Former Secretary of State Harry R. Swanson of Omaha, a Democrat seeking return to the office he once held, regards these forecasts as slightly optimistic.

Swanson predicted the vote would run from 550,000 to 575,000. Swanson said if the voters don't get to the polls early experience has shown that there is an average loss of about 10 votes per precinct—those who are unable to get back to the polls before they close. This would mean a loss of more than 20,000 votes.

Swanson pointed out that when the record mark was made in 1940 there still was considerable unemployment, but now with relatively low unemployment, workers will have difficulty getting to the polls outside their working hours.

The record turnout, if it materializes, would thus reflect the intense campaign interest, the unusually ardent get-out-the-vote effort throughout the state, and the weather factor.

Seventh Sweep

As to the outcome, well—State Republican Chairman David Martin, Kearney, sees a top-to-bottom GOP triumph. If he is right, it would mean a 7th straight sweep on the governorship and entire state ticket for the Republican Party, would retain the state's solidly-Republican Congressional delegation, and give Nebraska's six electoral votes to the Republican candidate for president for the fourth time in a row.

Martin's views were not shared by Democratic Chairman William Meier, Maudslayi. Meier sees Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, and Walter P. Ruckelshaus, Democratic candidate for governor, carrying the state.

He also believes at least one Democratic Senator and one Democratic Congressman will be elected but not which ones.

Close Race

Martin, while claiming a down-the-line win, said the closest races will be between Ruckelshaus and Robert Crosby for governor, and between Republican Roman Hruska and Democrat James Hart for the second district Congressional post. But he predicted a plurality of 10,000 to 15,000 votes for Hruska, and a 40,000 to 50,000 vote plurality for Crosby.

Ruckelshaus two years ago gave Gov. Val Peterson the stiffest race of his political career to date. No Democratic candidate ran stronger than did Ruckelshaus. Meier said he thought Stevenson and Ruckelshaus "would help each other." He noted that Democratic candidates for president have run better than Democratic state ticket candidates in recent elections "but because Ruckelshaus is such a strong candidate, I believe they will run about the same."

Many major candidates were using radio and/or television to plead their cases Monday.

Crosby made non-political talks to church and university groups in Omaha and Lincoln Sunday and spent Monday in Omaha for broadcasts and rallies.

Ruckelshaus spoke by radio from Grand Island Monday afternoon and made TV appearances in Omaha Monday night.

Eisenhower: Stern Red Stand Is Needed

General Winds Up Campaign By Saying U.S. Can Win Peace

BOSTON (INS)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower climaxed his battle for the presidency Monday night with a ringing declaration that America can win world peace if it rejects the "black belief" that it must compromise with Communism.

The Republican presidential candidate stated in an election eve address to the nation that his Democratic rival contends that the U.S. must make concessions in dealing with Russia. But any such compromising, said Ike, will only "feed the tyrants' fierce appetite for conquest."

The speech, delivered at a giant rally in Boston, wound up Eisenhower's campaign except for a brief address on an hour-long program over the biggest radio-TV network ever assembled for a political broadcast.

A crowd of 17,000 packed Boston Garden for the grand finale.

Appears With Nixon

The general appeared with his running mate, Sen. Richard Nixon, on the coast-to-coast show over all major networks. It cost $250,000.

The GOP nominee declared he has learned one lesson in his years of dealing with the Communists: "To vacillate, to hesitate, to plan about what it will be necessary to concede—this is surely to feed the tyrants' fierce appetite for conquest."

Eisenhower did not mention Stevenson by name, but the "concede" quotation is from a speech made by the governor in San Francisco before his nomination which Ike has sharply attacked previously.

The general said he was foregoing the "lusty language of a booming rally" which traditionally climaxes a political campaign to speak in simple terms of the danger confronting the nation and what we must do to defend our freedom.

He asked the question: "Is our age cursed to live under some inexorable law that decrees—whatever soldiers win, statesmen must surrender?"

"Is there some wicked historical equation demanding that whatever we gain in blood must be balanced by what we lost in ink?"

Providing his own answer, the former five-star general declared: "I was taught no such laws or precepts as a boy. As a man, I have learned to accept no such black belief."

Cites Yalta and Potsdam

He slapped at the "faltering and failings" in the quest for peace, and cited the Yalta and Potsdam conferences.

And he said there have been years of "cringing folly" and "apalling treason" in the long struggle for world peace since World War I.

The general warned that "more powerful and more horrible" weapons cannot of themselves bring peace, and said that above all America must be armed with "devotion to the morality of freedom." This, he said, "demands cleansing our hearts of even the faintest stains of prejudice or bigotry," which could divide the nation.

The Republican candidate was cheered by tens of thousands earlier in the day as he paraded through the South Boston area in a final bid for the 16 Massachusetts electoral votes.

The Bay State has gone Democratic in the last six presidential elections, but Eisenhower strategists claim their man has a better than even chance to swing it back into the Republican column.

Weather Over Nation Varied, But Not Here

Voters all over the nation go to the polls Tuesday at various times in a 23-hour period and in various kinds of weather.

The first precinct returns, from a small one in New Hampshire, were reported shortly after 11 p.m. Monday, Central Standard Time. On the West Coast the polls will be open until 10 p.m. Tuesday, Central Standard Time.

According to the Weather Bureau the nation will be rimmed with rain and snow on Election Day, with fair skies bringing warmer temperatures to much of the interior.

In Nebraska, although farmers would probably be happier slogging to the polls in mud, the forecast is for clear skies and temperatures in the seventies. Thirty-five mile winds forecast for the day will increase the threat of fire in tinder-dry fields.

Forecasts of rain along the fringes of the continent might effect the voter turnout, but they gave encouragement to fire fighters battling hundreds of stubborn timberland and brush blazes.

Election day showers were predicted for Washington, Oregon, Western Montana, the mountains of New Mexico and Southern Colorado, the New England and Middle Atlantic states, and along the Gulf Coast.

Light snow was expected in Northern New England and the Southern Rockies.

Readings in the Midwest were expected to be near 60 Tuesday, with fair skies predicted for the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys.

Some cloudiness was forecast for Upper Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Cox Is Re-Elected By Co-Op Council

Ray Cox of Waverly Monday night was re-elected chairman of the Lancaster County Co-Operative Council.

Also re-elected were Ervin C. Williams of Firth, vice chairman, and Ora Rasmussen of Lincoln, secretary-treasurer.

Problems of co-operatives were discussed at the annual meeting at the YWCA.

Nebraska farmers and ranchers progressively are getting less and less for their meat animals since the record highs of 1951, but the housewife will probably not be aware of any decrease in the cost of table meat during 1953 from this year's average.

The USDA's 1953 agricultural outlook expects consumer prices for beef and veal—particularly in the lower grades, to be lower, and perhaps also for chicken, mutton, fish, frozen fruit juices and fresh vegetables. The decrease is expected to be so slight as not to be noticeable.

The food budget will not be less, because the cost of eggs, butter, bread, some cereals and canned vegetables will average a little higher than 1952.

The average family is expected to spend slightly more for food during 1953. Factors for this increase are slight increase in the cost of food services and partly an expected increase in the amount consumed.

The nation's record economic activity is expected to keep consumer prices for the food up during 1953 and per capita expenditures to be higher.

The Nebraska index of livestock prices has progressively increased since 1945 to almost double in 1951. The index in 1945 was 213 points as compared with 1951's 418 points.

There is no foreseeable prospect that the national index will go other than downwards from the 1951 abnormal high, the USDA said.

FIRST RETURNS ...Ike Carries Sharon, N. H., 32-14

SHARON, N.H. (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower carried the little town of Sharon, believed to be the first in the nation to cast a ballot Tuesday in the 1952 presidential election. The vote was 32 for Ike and 14 for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic nominee.

The balloting took just seven minutes.

All but two of the 48 eligible voters cast ballots. One failed to vote and the other was out of town and did not seek an absentee ballot.

In the 1948 presidential election, Republican Thomas E. Dewey received 21, President Harry Truman, Democrat, 4 and Progressive Henry Wallace 2.

Folks arrived at the red brick school house early for a cider and doughnut party.

The one-room school house, built 185 years ago for $30, was nearly bursting its ax-hewn rafters with excitement. Nestled in the foothills on the Monadnock Mountains, the village hasn't buzzed with so much "goings on" since the last midnight election 12 years ago.

With a population of only 60, the village has 48 voters on the check list. A few, unable to attend, had absentee ballots.

MILLSFIELD, N.H. (INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower blanked Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson 8 votes to nothing in today's presidential election.

Millsfield is a tiny White Mountains community in so-called "political weathervane" Coos County, which hasn't been "wrong" in a presidential election in 60 years.

In 1948, the vote for President in Millsfield was: Dewey (R) 6; Truman (D) 1.

The vote of Millsfield, always overwhelming Republican, was cast and counted many hours before the millions of voters in other sections of the country started for the polls.

Highest Europe Building Is Planned In Moscow

LONDON (AP)—The Moscow radio said Monday night that construction had started in Moscow on what will be the "highest building in Europe." It will be 893 feet high.

The world's tallest structure is the Empire State Building in New York; 1,472 feet.

'53 Family Budget Won't Reflect Meat Price Drop

422 points for a similar period in 1951.

The October level for beef was $24.60, the lowest since April, 1950. Beef hit its highest mark of $32.70 in September 1951.

Sheep, averaging $6.70 during February, 1946. The record high of $18.60 appeared in 1951.

Hogs averaged $18.50, as compared with the 1951's $19.70 high, but lower than the 1948 average of $23.50.

Richard G. Ford, University Agriculture Extension economist, who attended the USDA's national outlook conference in Washington last week, said:

Beef prices are going down from the abnormal heights of 1951, prior to controls in April, 1951. There are five million cattle on the nation's farms or 20 per cent more than in 1948.

Prospects for the feeding of cattle appear to be better this winter than last because feeder cattle prices have fallen further than slaughter cattle.

Slaughter cattle prices will remain stronger than the lower grades which will have a more decided trend downward.

Sheep prices are expected to be some higher because of less slaughtering and wool price support. Less sheep and lambs will be slaughtered during 1953. Slaughtering was excessive in 1951.

Vote Challenge Error Righted; Fears Quieted

The neighborhood around 12th and Garfield received a scare Monday as persons there received notices of challenge of their registration.

The office of Election Commissioner, however, soon quieted all fears of not being able to vote. A typographical error in the office resulted in the challenges being sent to the wrong group of people.

There are still more than 4,000 persons, however, whose registration has been challenged and who will not be able to vote. Nearly all registration challenges are based on the prospective voters' failure to meet the proper residence requirements.

Persons wrongfully challenged can have the error corrected at the polls Tuesday, Commissioner Harold Gillest said.

Forms must be signed establishing residence in a precinct for the required time. Two persons who are residents of the same precinct and know the wrongfully challenged voter must also sign the forms.

Even with the challenges, registration is still well over 50,000 in Lincoln. Election officials expect the total Lancaster county vote Tuesday to go over 50,000.

Polls will be open Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Only those persons at the polls at closing time will be allowed to vote after 8 p.m.

A total of 2,877 absentee ballots have been sent out for this election. Of that number, about 300 went to disabled people and another 800 to servicemen.

Falling Clock Bangs Eisenhower On Head; Only Slight Injury

BOSTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower suffered a slight injury in a television studio mishap while posing for photographers early Tuesday after winding up his campaign.

The Republican candidate for the presidency was struck on the right temple when a clock fell from a temporary stand, the blow caused a slight scratch and an immediate swelling.

Eisenhower refused medical attention until after he finished posing. Then a small piece of adhesive was applied to the injury.

Voters Of 1952 Have Great Responsibility

New President And Congress Must Deal With Korea War, Communism, Big Domestic Problems

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

A record of 55 million or so voters, who should be the best informed in American political history, decide Tuesday whether Dwight D. Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson deserves the world's most tremendous job: President of the United States.

Usually, at this late hour a favorite has been well established and the outcome confidently predicted.

Not so this time. It could go either way.

'I Have Told You The Truth'

Adlai Urges Voters To Close Their Eyes To 'Hate And Fear'

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson told the nation's voters Monday night he has kept faith with himself during the presidential campaign and awaits their verdict Tuesday "in good temper and sober contentment."

The Democratic nominee placed his White House bid in the hands of the voters with a final appeal in a nation wide television and radio speech.

He declared that win or lose, "I have told you the truth" during the campaign.

Stevenson said that he wants to win and believes the Democratic party should be continued in office because "it is the party of no one, because it is the party of everyone."

'Boom and Bust'

He asserted that he did not believe "the economic well-being" of America could be safely entrusted to the Republican party—"the party of fear, inaction, boom and bust."

Stevenson had said in his prepared text that whatever the voters' decision is, the nation should shut off "the cowardly voices of hate and fear and suspicion which would destroy us."

However, because his television-radio time ran out, he was not able to deliver all of his prepared speech at once. The latter part of his message was carried in a separate program at 11 p.m. (CST) after the National Volunteers for Stevenson quickly made arrangements to purchase the additional time.

Appeal To People

A part of his message heard in the later appearance included an appeal to the American people to dedicate themselves to a belief and trust in themselves "on which the greatness of our country rests."

On the second appearance, Stevenson said: "If your decision is Gen. Eisenhower, I shall ask everyone who voted for me to accept the verdict with traditional American sportsmanship. If you select me, I shall ask the same of the Republicans, and I shall ask our Lord to make me an instrument of His peace."

Reviews Campaign

Tuesday, the Illinois governor will vote in the little Northern Illinois community of Half Day, then return to Springfield to await the decision of the voters.

Stevenson's brief speech climaxed a program featuring himself with President Truman, Vice President Alben Barkley, and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, Stevenson's vice presidential running mate.

He said: "Looking back, I am content. Win or lose, I have told you the truth as I see it. I have said what I meant, and meant what I said. I have not done as well as I should have liked to have done. But I have done my best, frankly and forthrightly; and no man can do more, and you are entitled to no less."

Stevenson went on: "Whatever the electorate decides, I ask that we close our ears and for all to the cowardly voices of hate, and fear, and suspicion which would destroy us; that we dedicate ourselves, each one of us alone, and all of us together, to that belief in ourselves, that trust in each other, on which the greatness of our country rests."

"For, believe me, the future of the world depends upon it."

"Tomorrow you will make your choice. I would urge every eligible American to exercise the greatest privilege bestowed upon us—the right to participate in deciding his own destiny."

The governor will return to Springfield about noon Tuesday and go to the mansion to wait out the verdict of the voters. He will be in constant touch with the returns as they flow in election night.

Surrender Offer Made By Rioters

One Convict Killed And Three Wounded

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Some of the 1,600 rioting convicts at Ohio Penitentiary offered to surrender Monday night, two hours after shots fired by state highway patrolmen killed one prisoner and wounded three others.

There was no indication how many convicts wanted to give up. A fourth convict was wounded Sunday.

Prison authorities did not say what they intended to do about the surrender offers.

"We give up," said one of the rioting convicts, as reported by a note displayed by the Ohio National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets and machineguns stood at posts outside four wrecked cellblocks in which the frenzied prisoners have locked themselves.

Although the warden had a sheaf of surrender notes, written on cloth and on scraps of paper, he expressed belief there still is a hard core of defiant prisoners resisting proposals to give up.

"We give up. We are not in favor of this and we know when we are licked," said one of the notes Alvis read to newsmen early Monday night.

The warden also said plans are being made to transfer 600 to 800 of the less violent prisoners to a northern Ohio camp, possibly at Camp Perry.

A rifle bullet drilled Carlyle Noel, 30-year-old Cincinnati housebreaker, through the head as he dashed for a stairway.

Shotgun pellets ripped into three others.

Red Grip Holds Fast On 2 Hills

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The costly battle of the Central Korean ridges raged into its fourth week Tuesday with Allied and Chinese Communist forces locked in a bloody stalemate.

South Korean troops assaulted the crest of Triangle Hill four times Monday and each time were hurled back. Other storming parties were unable to break the Red grip on Jane Russell Hill, a spur of Triangle.

About one mile to the east, the Chinese charged the peak of Sniper Ridge, but South Korean troops held fast to the height, Pinpoint Hill.

Neither side could gain, but the great cost in men and material mounted steadily in the death grapple north of Kumhwa on the Central Front. The battle began Oct. 14 with an Allied offensive.

Voters Are Urged To Cast Ballots Early

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

"Vote, but do it at the earliest possible opportunity," Harry R. Swanson, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, urged Monday from his experience in that office in 1940 when the present record 623,781 votes were cast in the state.

Swanson said that due to the campaign being waged by both political parties to get out the vote as well as work of other civic groups and organizations, it appears probable that the number may be exceeded this election.

He urged that large employers arrange to permit voting time during the morning hours rather than having the big rush follow the close of the business day. Housewives also can assist, he said, if they will go to the polls early rather than wait for their husbands to return from work.

Co-operation Needed
"If due to a last minute rush, five persons should fail to get to vote in each precinct," he pointed out, "it would mean that over 10,000 persons would lose their vote in the state."

Swanson recalled that at the time of the 1940 election many persons were still out of work and as a result voted during the early hours.

"With the present full employment, it can cause serious congestion if everybody does not co-operate to expedite the voting," he said.

The secretary of state's office lists 2,075 precincts in the state, the same number as in the primary election. The office has made no recent check, but the Associated Press election bureau, which is usually considered the unofficial tabulating source, found in a survey that there are but 2,067.

Pittenger Absent
Reason for the secretary of state having no official figures is not known, but James Pittenger, secretary of state has spent most of the last couple of months working to get out large crowds to greet Gen. Eisenhower on his campaign trips.

State law requires that a voting booth be provided for each 75 voters in the precinct and that the person voting can be limited to five minutes in the booth or 10 minutes in the voting enclosure for getting ballots, voting and depositing them.

However, because of the length of the ballot and special issues that will be considered, officials are recommending that all voters familiarize themselves in how they want to vote to expedite the work and keep within time limits.

To assist in assuring that all get to vote, Swanson said that some Omaha stores are opening late on election day so that employees can vote before the day's work.

In Lincoln some automobile companies will provide cars so that physically handicapped persons can be taken to the polls on request.

One-Room Rural School Almost Gone In 3 Eastern States, Officials Told

The one-room rural school is almost non-existent in three eastern states visited last week for a study of the operation of the county-unit system, State Supt. F. B. Decker reported Monday.

Decker, State Sen. Glenn Cramer of Albion, and Avery Linn, director of school re-districting in the state department, made the inspection. States visited were Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina.

Decker pointed out that in the county-unit states there is a single salary schedule for all teachers, so that teachers in the one-room schools which remain are as well prepared and as well paid as teachers in the city schools.

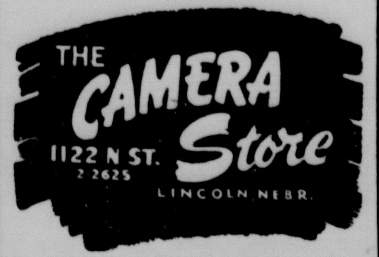

Uniformity of school taxes, and uniformity of equipment for classroom instruction are other features of the system.

All three states visited have state aid for schools, financed with state sales or income taxes, or both.

Decker commented that because

Both Sides Claim Congress Control; Demos Have Edge

GOP Needs Landslide To Win Senate

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of a divided Congress at an important period in American history lays particular emphasis on Tuesday's election of the 466 men and women who will share in shaping the nation's laws for the next two years.

To be filled are 432 House seats and 34 Senate seats. Maine already has elected three Republican House members and a Republican senator.

Not since 1916, when Woodrow Wilson was elected, has a new administration been required to work with a House controlled by one political party and a Senate controlled by the other.

Historically, the political party winning the presidency usually wins control of Congress. This has not always been the case, however—the last exception being 36 years ago when Wilson had a Republican House and Democratic Senate. There have been other divided Congresses elected in non-presidential years.

Should Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower be elected president Tuesday by a less than overwhelming majority, most observers see a possibility the 1916 division might be repeated. On the other hand, election of Gov. Adlai Stevenson likely would mean Democratic control of both houses of Congress.

The Democrats have an apparent advantage in the Senate. The present lineup is 49 Democrats, 46 Republicans and one Republican-independent, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon. Of the 34 seats at stake Tuesday, 20 are held by Republicans and 14 by Democrats. The 61 holdovers include 35 Democrats and 26 Republicans. A Senate majority is 49.

Barring a Republican sweep, Democrats are confident of holding their majority. With a tactical edge of 35 seats not at stake this year, the Democrats also count five more from Southern states and four from border states or states traditionally Democratic.

With these 44 almost-for-sure seats, Democrats also claim a good chance to win seats now held by Republicans in Missouri, Washington, Montana, Indiana, Delaware, Utah and Massachusetts. Republicans dispute those claims and say they should make gains in Wyoming, Michigan, Maryland, New Mexico and Connecticut.

In the House, Republicans are counting on an Eisenhower victory to give them a substantial working control.

The entire membership of the 435 House members is up for election every two years. Maine already has elected three Republican House members, leaving 432 seats to be filled Tuesday.

Republicans are counting on 246 House seats—28 more than the 218 majority—if Eisenhower wins, and possibly as many as 230 even if he loses. The Democrats figure, at the worst, they can retain control and possibly boost their margin up to 250 seats if Stevenson wins.

The present lineup in the House is 232 Democrats, 202 Republicans, and one independent. There are now four vacancies, evenly split between the two parties.

DEMOCRATS

KANSAS CITY (INS)—President Truman Monday expressed confidence in a Democratic victory in Tuesday's election.

Mr. Truman said he thought those whose analysis of the election trend shows a Democratic majority "are on the right track."

The President, in particular, expressed confidence in two election forecasts made by two of his former Democratic national chairmen.

Mr. Truman conferred with former Chairmen William M. Boyle and Frank McKinney during the past several days. Both have been on the Truman train during the final days of the campaign.

Both have made their own polls of national sentiment, and both have told the President the Democrats will win.

Asked for his reaction to the predictions of the two former national party chairmen, the President said: "I think they are on the right track."

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—A slim, aristocratic woman who may be the next first lady of the land toasted her stockings feet before her hearth fire Monday and vowed she isn't nervous over the election.

Mrs. Ives composed Elizabeth Stevenson, known as "Buffy" to her brother, Adlai Stevenson, and to her family and friends.

Mrs. Ives has served as Stevenson's official hostess at the Governor's Mansion in Springfield since Ellen Borden Stevenson divorced him in Reno in 1949.

She would move with Stevenson to the White House to continue as his hostess should the Democratic nominee win.

"I'm not tense or excited," she said in an interview in the rambling, 55-year-old Stevenson family home in Bloomington. "I suppose we'll all get jittery when the returns start coming in election night. But right now I don't feel at all nervous."

REPUBLICANS

LONDON (INS)—London's Douglas Stuart betting firm said Monday Gen. Eisenhower is an election eve odds-on favorite at 6-to-4 to win the U. S. presidential election.

Wager Reports
According to a member of the firm, wagers poured in during the past 24 hours, most of them picking Ike to beat Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

At Reno, Nev., one Reno bookie Monday quoted Gen. Eisenhower as an almost two-to-one favorite over Gov. Stevenson in Tuesday's election. Another bookie said last minute Stevenson bets "are pouring in."

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Silent film star Mary Pickford called Monday for a change of administrations in Washington, declaring that "continued power breeds corruption."

The one-time "America's Sweetheart" of the screen, in an "Open letter to America," said: "In the past years I have voted both the Republican and Democratic tickets, depending upon the candidates and what they stood for, but we the courageous George Washington, the valiant Thomas Jefferson or the beloved Abraham

Introducing— The Alvin Pendletons

Mr Pendleton is the newest civil engineer for the U.S. geological survey in Lincoln, having come all the way from Logan, Utah with his wife and twenty-one month old daughter Carol. A Sigma Chi at the Utah State agricultural college, he is trying out a brand new degree for an unlimited time in Lincoln! Engineering is not confined to college for Mr. Pendleton; he served with the Army corps of engineers during the second War War.

Also a graduate of Utah State, but a major in clothing and textiles, Mrs. Pendleton was a member of Alpha Chi Omega. She hopes to become active in alumnae work here but cannot foresee any time to spend again with Red Cross or other civic organizations, with such an active young daughter! As a former home ec major, Mrs. Pendleton's home at 323 Witherbee Road is no challenge, but she hopes to begin house-hunting with her busy husband sometime this winter.

In the vernacular of hobbies, the Pendletons were avid skiers (a ridiculous prospect in Nebraska!) hunters, and fishermen. While her husband assailed his degree, Mrs. Pendleton resumed her girlhood work as a beautician, having obtained her operator's license in her mother's shop. She later utilized her college degree by serving as an instructress in tailoring and sewing at adult education courses. During their brief residence in Lincoln, the Pendletons have been entertaining head colds but hope to investigate our opportunities for young couples in a civic and social vein.

Good Morning--

NARY A DULL moment to be found today—that we know for sure—It's just a question of survival from dawn to dawn as far as all of the excitement is concerned—Tomorrow, as you know, is Wednesday—post-mortem day in political circles—and what happens in between is anybody's guess—

THERE'S NO GUESS work about the social angle, however—It seems that TV parties are the order of the evening—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bodie Jr., for instance, have invited twelve guests for a television affair that will begin at 8:30 o'clock—To ease the suspense there is to be a buffet supper at midnight, so we were told. Attending the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Weil, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sayre, Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stiner and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heumann.

THE HALLETTS—Mr. and Mrs. E. Sheldon—will be host and hostess to sixteen guests at an election party at their home—The guests have been invited for 9 o'clock, and supper will be served at midnight.

THEN THERE are the Magees—Mr. and Mrs. Oliver N., who also are to be host and hostess at a TV party at their home this evening. Twelve guests have been invited to hear the returns.

BUT THE Election doesn't have a complete monopoly on the news—We hear that Mrs. Joseph Grigsby of Grigsby Station, Landover, Md., is the incentive for activity on Wednesday—Mrs. Grigsby, former national president of Delta Delta Delta sorority, has come to Lincoln to be the guest speaker at the annual panel-istic workshop banquet on Tuesday evening at the Student Union.

On Wednesday morning the Lincoln alumnae of Tri-Delta

D.A.R. Plans Guest Day

Mrs. A. J. Rasmussen of Omaha, regent of the Nebraska chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, will be a special guest next Friday at the regular luncheon and meeting of Deborah Avery chapter.

This will be a guest day event for the chapter, and following the 12:30 o'clock luncheon, at the Hotel Cornhusker, Mrs. Rasmussen will talk on "The Activities of D.A.R."

Toastmistress Club Dinner

Mrs. Josephine Eyen was topic mistress Monday evening at the dinner-meeting of the Lincoln Toastmistress club, held at the YWCA. Table topic during the dinner was "Salesmanship", and presiding at the meeting was Miss Edith Lumsden, president.

Serving as toastmistress was Miss Annie Laurie Smith, and the speakers and their topics were Mrs. Helen Colcaterra, "Your Tomorrow", and Miss Anne Mischnick, "The Evaluation of An Idea".

Writers Guild Hears Program

At the meeting of the Lincoln Writers Guild, Monday evening, in the board room of the National Bank of Commerce, Mrs. J. M. Neely presented a program, "Rhythm in Prose and Poetry." Presiding at the short meeting was Mrs. George G. Swingle, vice president.

will be hostesses at a 10 o'clock coffee at the chapter house, complimenting Mrs. Grigsby.

ANOTHER COURTESY for Mrs. Grigsby on Wednesday is the luncheon for which Mrs. Lloyd True will be hostess when she entertains a small group of guests at Colonial Cup.

WHILE ON the topic of courtesy we may as well meander on to Friday when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lau will entertain at dinner at the University Club, complimenting Colonel and Mrs. Carl Junge of Washington, D.C.

AND MENTION of Friday naturally turns our thoughts to the coming week end and the Kansas-Nebraska game at Lawrence—Understand that

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maly Jr. plan to attend the game together—And someone told us that Mr. and Mrs. Jim James and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrington also will be going to Lawrence—Mr. and Mrs. James and Mr. and Mrs. Harrington plan to remain in Lawrence for the party the members of the Lawrence Cosmopolitan Club are giving for Lincoln club members.

HEAR THAT Pvt. and Mrs. E. M. Weaver Jr., will be arriving late this evening from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., to spend a week as the guests of Pvt. Weaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Weaver. From Lincoln Pvt. and Mrs. Weaver will go to Baltimore, Md., where

Pvt. Weaver will enter training for counter-intelligence.

THE EVENING after election poses no problem for Mrs. Robert Windle, Mrs. Ben James, Mrs. Robert McNutt, Mrs. Houghton Furr, Mrs. Ed Schwartzkopf, Mrs. W. K. Dalton and Mrs. Nate Holman Jr. With this group election post-mortems will be traded for some good bridge hands—at the home of Mrs. Elmer Peterson who will be the bridge club hostess.

DID YOU know that Mrs. George Lemon is a patient at Bryan Memorial Hospital? Reason: broken ankle.

NURSERIES NEWS today involves the arrival of a daughter on Monday, Nov. 3, to Mr. and Mrs. William Dobler.

Bride Has Church Ceremony

MRS. PAUL M. KUGLER

The marriage of Miss Geraldine Wertz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Balzer Wertz, to Paul M. Kugler of Tulsa, Okla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Kugler of Dalton, was solemnized Sunday evening, October 26, at Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Wedding On Sunday

At a Sunday afternoon ceremony solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church in Loup City, Miss Virginia Elsner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Elsner of Loup City, became the bride of Lieut. Charles D. Lundquist of Grand Island.

White imported Chantilly lace fashioned the bride's period gown. A snugly fitted jacket of the lace accented by a mandarin collar of tulle was worn over the strapless lace bodice, and the flaring lace over satin skirt was trimmed with vertical panels of minutely pleated nylon tulle. A cap of pleated satin held her veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis, tucked with satin.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. F. S. Leschinsky, organist, who also accompanied Miss Harriet Galloway who sang, "I Love Thee, Dear," "All For You," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Frocked alike in carnation red nylon net over satin were the maid of honor, Miss Marion Elsner of Loup City, sister of the bride, and Miss Paula Lundquist of Grand Island, sister of the bridegroom. Brief fitted jackets covered the decollete satin bodices, and the net over satin skirts were shirred into fullness. They wore mits of matching satin and carried rounded bouquets of white tulle chrysanthemums and red carnations.

Harold Peterson of Omaha, served Lt. Lundquist as best man, and seating the guests were Mike Kronknight of Loup City, and Claude Clausen of Grand Island.

A reception for two hundred fifty guests was held in the church parlors, after which the couple left for Las Vegas, Nev., where the bridegroom is stationed at Nellis air force base.

For traveling, Mrs. Lundquist wore a black faille suit with black velvet accessories.

The bride is a former student of the University of Nebraska, and Lt. Lundquist attended Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., and the University of Nebraska.

UP Head Charges Johnson Influenced ICC Decision

Ogden Case Involved In Controversy

OMAHA (AP)—President A. E. Stoddard of the Union Pacific Railroad Monday accused Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) of using his position as chairman of the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce in an attempt to influence the ICC decision in the Ogden Gateway freight rate case.

The Ogden gateway case, involves the request of the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad for establishment of joint through rates with the Union Pacific via their connection at Ogden, Utah, for shipments to and from the Pacific Northwest. The Union Pacific contends that the proposal is an attempt to invade a large territory built up and served exclusively by the Union Pacific by investment of millions of dollars in equipment, facilities and service.

Attacks Editorial
Stoddard's charge was made in a letter to ICC chairman J. Haden Aldredge, with which he enclosed a photostatic copy of a "so-called editorial" which he said was published in the Wichita, Kan., Beacon, over Johnson's signature "less than two weeks" after the case was reargued and submitted to the full commission for decision.

He quoted the editorial as saying that "it is of importance to Southern Kansas to realize that" when the Union Pacific cancelled the joint rates in 1906-1912, "it then lost some thing of tangible benefit and that loss may shortly be retrieved."

Opening the Ogden gateway through joint rates, the editorial said, would "permit an unrestricted flow of wheat via the route of the Rio Grande and its connections through Southern Kansas milling points and thence to market with no rate penalties."

Copy To Commissioners
Stoddard termed the editorial in a Kansas newspaper "understandable only as an extension of his efforts to agitate the public even beyond the borders of his own state in the hope of influencing the commissioners to give the Rio Grande what it seeks."

He said he was sending a copy of his letter and the editorial to Johnson and to all the commissioners "in order that all of you may know that we are fully aware of this latest effort to exert upon the commissioners what ever influence his strategic position as chairman of the Senate Committee on interstate and foreign commerce may have."

One Dead, Two Hurt In Crash

McGREW, Neb. (AP)—One man was killed and two were injured when their car left Highway 86 a quarter mile east of McGrew, got back onto it but then rolled over three times.

The victim was Jake Chaveu, 74, Gering, a farm laborer.

Chaveu was a passenger in a car driven by Manuel Ramirez, 28, Gering farmer. Ramirez suffered cuts and bruises and another passenger, Tony Castaneda, 24, Scottsbluff, suffered bruises and possible internal injuries.

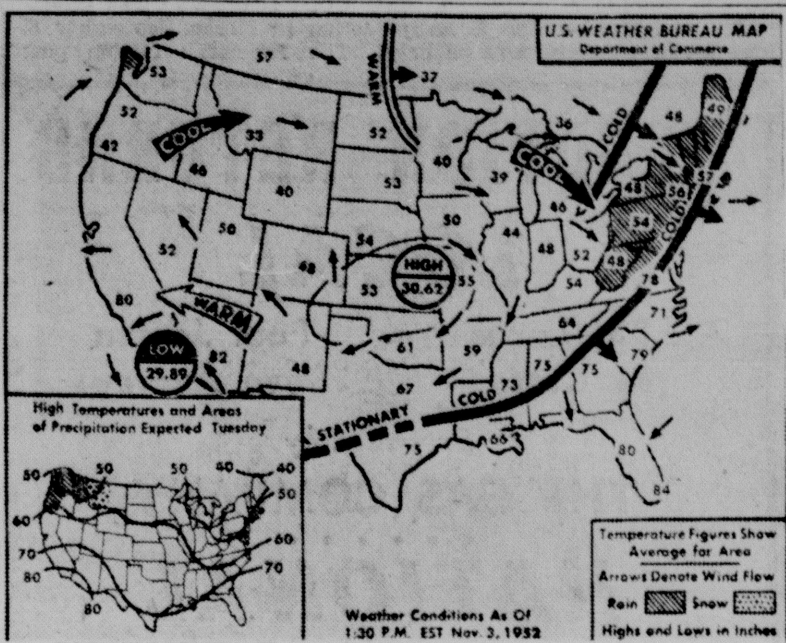

The death boosted Nebraska's 1952 traffic death total to 287, compared with 276 at this time last year.

MAURITZ R. HOLMSTEDT
GENOA—Funeral services were held here for Mauritz R. Holmstedt, 80, longtime resident of this vicinity. He was a World War I veteran. Surviving are two sons, Frank, serving with the armed forces in Alaska, and Bill of Genoa; and a daughter, Mrs. Jean Johnson of Genoa.

Friends Join Cozad's 'Santa' In Desire To Delight Kiddies

COZAD, Neb. (AP)—Bob George, George dug down into his own jeans to finance a street party, some visits to homes and gifts here and there.

Last year his street party in Cozad drew about 4,000 persons; rural schools were dismissed and children from six or more communities came to share in the 2,800 sacks of candy passed out. Soon afterward he was invited to Broken Bow to put on a similar show.

This year the community has lined up with him to give his show the grand flourish.

Miles Hart, cattleman and farmer, loaned George a building in Cozad which is being converted into a Santa Claus headquarters and workshop.

J. Edridge Howarter, an artist-seaman who has visited many strange lands, has provided five big mural paintings for the walls of the Santa Claus shop.

Mr. and Mrs. George—his wife is a partner in the project—and their helpers have prepared two gaily decorated Christmas trees; myriads of stars hang from the ceiling; a lighted fireplace glows in the big room, and there are two miniature nativity scenes.

But that isn't all.

Brand New Sleigh
When the building is officially opened Wednesday, Santa Claus George will glide down to the Cozad airport in Lawrence Sargent's plane, climb into his brand new motor driven sleigh, and head for town.

The $2,500 sleigh—blacksmiths Lewis Hartman and Bill Brock worked two months on it—is about 40 feet long. Two prancing reindeer are mounted at its head, decked in colorful plastic harness provided by a Cozad plastics manufacturer. It will carry from 30 to 40 children at a time.

Kenneth Muirhead, a filling station operator, will see that it's always gassed up and ready to go. Jim Williams has made himself responsible for the music, recorded on tape, and readied the public address system as a part of the sleigh equipment.

Fred Rasmussen has insured the whole layout—including George—for his grand tour of Nebraska cities.

Want to talk to Santa? The Cozad Mutual Telephone Company will switch your call directly to the Santa Claus headquarters between 5:30 and 9 o'clock nightly.

Loup City Youths Give Nod To Ike

LOUP CITY, Neb. (AP)—If it's true that the words of a community's youth reflects the thinking of its adults, Sherman County may end up in the Republican column this year for the first time since 1924.

Loup City and Sherman County haven't favored a Republican presidential candidate since they gave the nod to the late Calvin Coolidge in 1924.

But the results of a straw vote taken in Loup City high school indicated that its youth at least is talking Republican in 1952.

The vote, conducted by the American history class, which is taught by Fred Winter, showed these results:

For President—Eisenhower, R 117, Stevenson, D 80.
For Long Term Senator—Butler, R 125, Long, D 68, Dell, 3.
For Short Term Senator—Ritchie D 110, Griswold, 85.
For Governor—Crosby R 99, Raecke D 99, 16.

State Briefs: School Redistricting Discussed

EXETER — A group of about 80 representatives from 17 rural school districts met here with school officials of Exeter school district No. 20 to discuss plans for the proposed redistricting of outlying school districts around Exeter. Speakers for the evening included Emma Renken, Fillmore county school superintendent, and Hazel Comstock, York county school superintendent.

Naturally, he said, the state would try to match that 18 million dollars before trying to equal the new allocation.

He pointed out that the new allotment would be available until the end of the fiscal year June 30, 1954, and then for two years more before lapsing under present law.

City Council 'Doesn't Disapprove' Bus Rate Hike

Resolution Brings No Action

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Council gave a left handed approval to the proposed fare increase by Lincoln City Lines by not taking any action on the proposal.

City Welfare and Safety Director Ray Osborn had asked the Council to approve a resolution favoring the increase.

The Council, however, particularly Mayor Victor E. Anderson wanted to neither approve or disapprove the increase. The Council agreed with Anderson that the increase should be determined upon proof before the Railway Commission.

City Attorney C. Russell Mattson stated that by not acting either way on the increase, the Council was in effect showing that it did not disapprove the increase. City Lines have asked for an adult fare increase from 10 cents to 15 cents, four tokens for 50 cents. Children's fares would be slightly lowered through the use of tokens.

Anderson was also critical of the bus company maintaining the 30-day notice of cancellation of service before the Railway Commission.

"I'm getting sick and tired of this (the bus company's) continual threat of pulling out," Anderson said, "and keeping everyone worried. I think it's about time we told them we're going to stand on our rights and make them live up to their operational contracts."

"Are they really going to pull out or are they just using this a bluff to get rate increases and other benefits?"

Mattson told the Council that the current notice of cancellation of service expires Dec. 30. But, he added, company officials have given assurance that that deadline would be extended as long as progress was being made toward the eventual termination of City Lines' operations here.

The bus company gave its original notice of cancellation of service about one year ago. Since that time, the notice has been continued on a 30-day basis.

Queries To Voters Bring Many Replies

OMAHA (AP)—If N. Phil Dodge Jr. is elected to the state legislature from the 10th district in Omaha, Tuesday, he'll go to the session with a pretty good idea of what his constituents think.

As a campaign maneuver Dodge has mailed some 12,000 foldover postcards to voters asking their opinions on the problems of taxes, schools, roads, etc.

Returns have been pouring in at the rate of more than 100 a day.

"It occurred to me," Dodge said, "that most legislators never bother to find out what their people really think on vital issues. They are prone to accept advice of representative special groups. With these polls I believe I can represent my district more intelligently next January."

Third World War May Hinge On Election Outcome—Truman

President Makes His Final Plea

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—President Truman said Monday night that Tuesday's voting may decide whether this country's civil liberties fall before "a wave of smear and fear" and the country itself into "a third world war."

He made his last appeal for Democratic votes on a nationwide television and radio program with Adlai Stevenson, John Sparkman and Vice-President Barkley.

This followed an earlier assertion to reporters that Democratic polls showing a party win are "on the right track."

Depression Danger
Speaking from the Hotel Muehlebach after an introduction by Barkley, Truman declared: "This election may decide whether we shall go ahead and expand our prosperity or slide back into a depression. It may decide whether we shall preserve and extend our civil rights and liberties, or see them fall before a wave of smear and fear. Above all, it may decide whether we shall finally achieve lasting peace or be led into a third world war."

Before the President spoke, introducing Adlai Stevenson and John Sparkman to the nationwide audience, William M. (Bill) Boyle Jr., former Democratic national chairman, shifted New York into the column of states he says Stevenson "can't lose" to give the Democratic nominee a minimum of 291 votes.

City Approves Representation In Power Fight

The City Council has approved a resolution vesting authority in the League of Nebraska Municipalities to represent Lincoln in seeking group billing of power purchased by the city and seven other cities from the Nebraska Public Power System.

The resolution also authorizes the League to proceed with court action in behalf of Lincoln in securing the group billing if such a step is needed. That step would be needed and taken if the NPPS rejected the formal request for group billing as is expected.

In the resolution, Lincoln agrees to pay its share of the cost of any court action.

Buy, Resell

The League, according to the resolution, would buy all power from the NPPS (hydros) and resell it to the eight cities involved. The League would be paid for the cost involved in such an operation.

The other seven Nebraska cities which are League members and buying power from the hydros are expected to approve similar resolutions this week. The League has already sent its official request for consolidated billing to the NPPS.

Such billing would mean the power purchased by all eight cities would be lumped together for billing purposes and thus fall in the lower or cheaper end of the hydros' sliding rate scale.

Cozad, Rushville Teams Take Lead In Class B, C

The Star's Top Ten

CLASS B	CLASS C
1—Cozad	1—Rushville
2—Broken Bow	2—Pender
3—Minden	3—Cambridge
4—York	4—Grant
5—Gering	5—Chapell

By JIM CLARK
Star Sports Staff Member

COZAD and Rushville are the new leaders in the Class A and B prep ratings this week with only two games remaining, at the most, on the grid docket.

Cozad takes over the Class B leadership after stunning the Lexington Minutemen, 40-12. Broken Bow dropped to second place from the top rung, although trouncing Ainsworth, 40-0. The Indians had a narrow, 7-6, squeak past Lexington in their season opener.

Rushville took the top spot in the Class C ratings—after besting Crawford, 12-0, to practically wrap up the Northwest Nebraska Conference title. Rushville replaces Grant at the pinnacle of the heap after Ogalala stumped the Plainsmen, 31-7.

The Minden Whippets bounded into third place in Class B with an overwhelming victory, 40-6, over Holdrege. Sporting a mighty offensive machine, the Whippets have rolled to 193 points in five games while holding their opponents to 13.

Gering, last week's third place team, dropped to the fifth peg after being held to a 6-6 tie by the Sidney Maroons. York fills in at fourth place after snaring the Central Eight Conference crown by pasting Crete, 20-12.

Although still unbeaten, Tekamah slipped to sixth place due to a weaker schedule than the top five have played. Sidney edged up to seventh on the basis of its tie with the unbeaten Gering.

Bayard returns to the Class B ratings this week at eighth

Game Commission Disowns Deputies Checking Hunters

Secretary Paul Gilbert of the State Game Commission said Monday there are some deputy sheriffs appointed at the county level who have been checking hunters in the field.

"We want the public to know that these deputies are not connected in any way with the Game Department," Gilbert commented. "Our men are in uniform and immediately identify themselves as conservation officers," he added.

In Clay County, men have been deputized to enforce the posting of lands over most of the county. In some instances the deputies are enforcing other laws. Any peace officer in the state is empowered to enforce game laws in the same manner as other laws.

Sheriff Otto North of Clay Center told The Star that the formation of a "hunters club" has resulted in the posting of many farms, although most farmers are allowing hunting by permission.

Much of the corn in the area is and the posting has come as a result of the farmers desire to specify which fields may be hunted.

Gilbert said he is preparing a file of all reports on such activity by others than regular game wardens, for submission to the commission when it meets here Nov. 14.

place with seven wins and one loss. Gordon dropped a 47-0 decision to Bayard last week. Blair is the new ninth place team after rolling past Plattsmouth, 34-6. A 13-0 loss handed down by Class A Columbus is the only blemish on the Bears record. David City retained its hold on tenth place although held to a slim 13-6 verdict by Central City.

The Pender Pendragons continued their high scoring parade, 46-0, at the expense of Allen to hold on to the runner-up spot in Class C. The Pendragons have built their way to 285 points in eight games this season while having but one touchdown scored against them.

Cambridge stepped into third place by downing St. Cecilia, 26-0. Chappell rolled over Waukena, 79-0, for the fifth peg in the ratings, while Battle Creek held on to sixth place by trouncing Stuart, 41-12.

Clarks kept its victory string intact with a 56-0 rout of St. Paul for seventh place, and Oshkosh got back into winning stride again by pasting Julesburg, Colo., 33-13, for eighth place.

Anselmy slipped a notch to ninth place after squeaking past Burwell, 19-6, and Syracuse fills in at tenth place after stopping Waverly, 27-7.

PAPPY FISH—Andrew Gellathly of Sutton offers proof that fishing in the Blue River is still good. Last week he took this 10½ pound, 28-inch catfish and another 3¼ pounder from the river seven miles north of Sutton. Gellathly reports having caught "quite a few" fish this fall, but that the big one is the "grandpappy of them all." (Photo Special to The Star.)

Civic Leaders Refuse Loan

...Sought By Texans

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The financially harassed Dallas professional football team failed Monday to get aid from Dallas civic leaders and the future of the National League franchise was up in the air.

Officials of the Texans were pessimistic that the club could finish out the season unless it got the $125,000 it had asked of the Citizens Council of Dallas, an organization of civic leaders.

Directors of the council, said they had decided making a loan to a professional football club was outside the council's field of activities.

D. Harold Byrd, one of the Texans' board of trustees, presented the plea, explaining that the original investors would take care of the loss of $250,000 that had accrued to date and furnish $125,000 in new capital if the loan were granted.

The Dallas club has drawn an average of 12,000 fans for its home games, about half enough to pay expenses. It has played three games at home and lost its sixth straight game Sunday.

Hultquist, Macy Pace NWU To All-Time Offense Mark

EVERY yard Nebraska Wesleyan's Plainsmen gain against Midland college next Friday night will be "sheer gravy" in the record book.

The Plainsmen assured themselves of a new school total of offensive record when they gathered in 322 yards against Hastings college Friday to boost their total to 2613 for the season.

A year ago Hansen Taylor piloted the Plainsmen to a record breaking total of 2461 yards in ten contests, while the Plainsmen were dropping eight games.

This year the balanced Methodist offensive has struck for 1637 net rushing yards and 976 through the air, better than 4.7 yards on each of their 548 offensive efforts.

Individually, it's Wes Hultquist who is leading the Plainsmen. Hultquist has scampered to 560 net yards rushing and has passed for 332 more for a fancy 892 yard total, nearly one-third of the team total.

Hultquist is also the club's top pass receiver, although he failed to catch a single flip against the Broncos. The Plainsman captain has received 19 passes for 226 yards.

Marv Macy, the Beatrice freshman, leads the aerial assault with 38 completions in 70 attempts for 496 yards. Macy had his poorest night against the Broncos, connecting on but four of 13, but a shoddy performance by his receivers was the big factor in this show.

Hultquist, who booted two 54 yard kicks against Hastings, one of them out on the two-yard line, and averaged 43.7 in seven boots, has a seasonal average of 40.7 for 49 kicks, two of which have been blocked.

Governor's Criticism Of Courts Blasted By Bar Report

Report of the committee on Crime and Delinquency Prevention to be presented at the Nebraska Bar Association annual meeting in Omaha, Nov. 12, as released Monday took issue with Gov. Val Peterson's statement at a recent pardon board meeting that courts are failing to protect the rights of defendants in felony cases.

"The criticism is without foundation and entirely unjustified," the report said, pointing out that their investigation showed the "courts are extremely careful to advise defendants of their right to counsel and offer and do appoint counsel in all cases, even where the defendant enters a plea of guilty, unless the defendant intelligently waives his right."

The committee pointed out recommended amendments in the sexual psychopath law that would require issuance of a warrant and provide counsel for an indigent defendant.

Study was urged on creation of a state probationary system under supervision of the courts instead of present probation under the courts being supervised by the sheriff or county judge.

Further study was advised on the California system of graduated security and techniques of rehabilitation. The question was raised as to whether sentencing of convicted persons is a judicial or ministerial act.

Also recommended was at least a part time pathologist to be available to all counties to perform autopsies and assist county attorneys, but paid by the state.

Commendation

Commendation was given the Safety Patrol for the "effective manner in which it has handled the enforcement of traffic laws."

However, the committee headed by Robert A. Nelson, assistant attorney general, would have them placed under the direction of the political office of the attorney when testifying in criminal cases general instead of the present non-political place as a division of the state highway department.

The report particularly sought control by the attorney general of the criminal division of the safety patrol which was added when the duties of the state sheriff were given the patrol by the governor's appointment of the patrol head as state sheriff.

The report said the highly trained investigators and laboratory technicians of the patrol are state sheriff's duties were transferred to the patrol.

Wesleyan Votes 2½ To 1 For Ike

Nebraska Wesleyan University students cast a solid 2½ to 1 vote for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Sen. Richard Nixon in a campus-wide mock election Monday sponsored by the campus chapters of the YWCA and YMCA.

Students favored the national Republican presidential ticket by a vote of 259 to 101. Thirty-eight Wesleyan faculty members cast 30 votes for the Republican ticket and eight for the Democratic Gov. Stevenson-Sen. Sparkman combination.

Voting was predominantly Republican by from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1 in most cases on the mock ballots. Presidential, state, and First district congressional races were sampled.

Despite the predominantly solid GOP vote, a major surprise was noted in the faculty vote for governor. Thirty-nine faculty members favored Republican party candidate Robert Crosby by a single vote, 20-19.

On Tuesday, the Wesleyan chapters of YWCA and YMCA will provide a free baby sitting service to Lincolnites who might otherwise be deprived of the privilege of voting.

YW President Ruth Wallis, Scottsbluff, said those wanting the baby sitting service should call Dean of Women Ethel Johnson at Nebraska Wesleyan (6-2371) to make arrangements.

Slaying Unarmed Bobby Stirs London

LONDON (P)—Slaying of an unarmed London policeman brought new demands Monday for a return to the "cat"—whipping—and other harsh punishments for young hoodlums whose black-jack assaults have alarmed this international capital.

A London Bobby—policemen here normally go unarmed—was shot dead Sunday in an attempt to capture two teen-agers on a roof of a warehouse.
